Ski Trip Opens Sno Week Schedule Provides Variety

UMD's 7th annual Sno Week activities will commence today with the overnight ski trip to the Sawtooth Mountain ski area near Grand Marais, Minn. The skiers began their sojourn this morning on the first bus, which left at 7 a. m. The second section will leave this afternoon at 3 p. m.

Upon their return, those participating in the ski trip are invited, along with the general student body, to attend "The Midnight Sun", a dance sponsored by the Special Events Committee of KSC and featuring the music of Jerry Nelson's combo. The dance will run from 9:30 to 2 a. m. and a midnight breakfast will be served.

Other dances during the week will be "The Hard Times" square dance Wednesday evening, when the winner of the Beard Contest will be announced, and the formal Sno-Ball, Saturday night, the 16th.

Organizations have sponsored Sno-Queen candidates, and after a series of eliminations, five of them will be chosen to be voted upon by the student body. Voting will be held on the 15th, and crowning ceremonies will take place at the Sno-Show on Friday, Feb. 15.

Special events this year will be the mock dog sled and barrel stave races, and the broom-ball games, held Feb. 12, with the winner receiving points towards the newly inaugurated participation trophy. A snow-sculpture contest will also be held, with judging on the 14th.

Comedy!

UMD Players Are Growing Old

The cast of "Mornings at Seven" did a creditable job with a play that was not really suited for the University Theatre.

"Morning's" deals with a theme the federal government has largely brushed aside with Social Security. The doubts and fears and the sense of insecurity that beset the aged provide the mood for this play by Paul Osborn. These problems might be excellent proving grounds for professional players but the "light comedy" was either too light or too heavy.

Situations involving 60 and 70 year-old spinsters and 40 year-old bachelors are bound to have humorous overtones, but it seemed that the humor degenerated into simple burlesque that did not merit the time devoted to it.

The cast consisted largely of

Spring Entry System Passes

Since the one-day registration has met with general student and faculty approval, it will be repeated for currently enrolled students wishing to register for Spring Quarter. The actual class-card distribution day will be February 27, 1957.

Advisement will take place only on February 18 through 21 and on February 25. Students not receiving advisement on these days will be unable to register until April 1, 1957, the first day of Spring Quarter. Last day for payment of fees without penalty is March 21, 1957.

Registration will be in the order of classes from senior through freshman with a modified random sorting within classes and assignment by number at 20 minute intervals. This should provide a more even flow of registrants than during the Winter Quarter pre-registration period. Students should definitely report to the ballroom only at the designated time. Absolutely no changes in time will be permitted on the day of registration, February 27, 1957.

Students having part-time jobs should arrange well in advance with their employers to have time off for registration. In general, it seems that seniors and juniors will probably register between 8:00 and 10:00 a. m., sophomores until the noon hour and freshmen in the afternoon.

Sno Queen Title in Offing; Eliminations Set for Monday

The campaign of the queen contestants participating in UMD's 7th annual Sno Week will officially begin on Monday, February 11. The Queen's Coffee Social Hour will be held from 11-12 a. m. in the KSC cafeteria. All students are invited to attend the Social Hour, where the queen candidates will be hostesses. Included among the guests will be a board of six judges who will determine the five finalists in the Sno-Queen contest.

The names of the five finalists will be announced at noon on Monday. Final voting will be on Friday, February 15. The queen will be crowned by Miss Shirley Sinko, last year's Sno-Queen, at the Sno-Show on Friday night.

The publicity of the five finalists may be arranged in any manner planned by the sponsoring organizations. Each finalist will be allowed five posters which will be distributed on the campus.

Ten girls have been nominated for Sno-Queen. They are: Barb Ball, freshman from Duluth, sponsored by the STATESMAN. Barb is 18 years old, 5' 4" tall, with brown hair and eyes. She is majoring in are, and minoring in psychology and phy ed.

Sue Barber, 18 - year - old freshman from Duluth. Sue is sponsored by Gamma Theta Phi fraternity and is 5' 3" tall with brown hair and blue eyes.

Janet Betty, 19 - year - old sophomore, sponsored by Beta Phi Kappa fraternity. Janet is a business major, with brown hair and brown eyes. Jan is 5' 2".

WASHBURN 109

During the past few weeks there has been an obvious crack-down by local authorities on the drinking of minors. As the majority of students on this campus are under legal age it might be well to offer that majority an inducement to be cautious.

No one could be naive to the extent of thinking that any crack-down, no matter the degree, could completely halt the illegal imbibing, but it might be well for those participating in the activity to consider the case of one of their fellows:

One particular individual, who shall remain nameless, was apprehended by John Law with a forged driver's license. He was artistic to the extent of duplicating the federal postage stamp on the back of the license. For his efforts he received 90 days in the workfarm, and when he serves this time the federal people will be waiting to consider him for a five year position in one of their institutions because of forging a federal stamp.

Ladies and gentlemen, burn those cards and give up your evil ways until that blessed 21st birthday, unless you desire a long rest, which might very well find you basking behind bars while that celebrated birthday passes.

This day will mark the beginning of Sno Week, 1957. Eight days hence, the festivities will have passed, after being enjoyed by some 2,000, who will little realize that these nine days were the culmination of many weeks work, by a concerted few.

Any activity of any scope on this, or any campus is dependent on a small corps who sweat through a lengthy preparatory period, jeopardizing studies and health to turn out a product which is passed off as a routine matter by the ever-receiving mass.

No, you won't find perfection in these endeavors, and yet, the individuals who attempt them earnestly strive for that quality. But perfection is as impossible to achieve as perpetual motion. However, the attempt is as worthy as the goal.

Sno Week, 1957 will pass and only be remembered specifically by one who happens on an ancient STATEMAN or CHRONICLE, and by most as just another Sno Week, nothing more. But there will be some, the committee, who will remember it down to the Sno Ball's final note. They will remember that they made an attempt to make this Sno Week the best yet—and even though they may succeed, their only proof will be your appreciation shown through participation. They did this for you. Show them it was worth it.

Humanist Next Week

The winter '57 issue of the UMD HUMANIST will be available to students next week, according to James Mattson of the UMD print shop. The HUMANIST will be distributed free to students upon presentation of activity cards at booths in Main and in Kirby Student Center.

A literary quarterly sponsored by the division of humanities and the student commission, the magazine aims to publish the best of student creative work in literature, art and music, said Katherine Coughlin, chairman of the magazine's board of editors.

Behind the cover designed by William Jarvi, readers of the current issue of the HUMANIST will find a short story, "Martin Martyr," by George Deaux, dealing with the relationship between the sensitive "intellectual" and society; translations of some Japanese poetry by Ryohei Ueno; and original verse by William Lokke and Elizabeth Kauppi.

Enid Hagen's prize winning essay, "Shaw and the Moral Paradox," is featured in this issue. Miss Hagen's essay was awarded first prize in the 1956 Shaw Memorial Prize contest for the best essay on drama.

In addition, the magazine contains a musical composition, two character sketches and reproductions of student paintings and drawings.

According to Miss Coughlin, the spring HUMANIST is now being planned and contributions for it may be brought to the office of the Department of English, 205, Main, or to the HUMANIST office on the third floor of Washburn Hall.

COMMENT

By DOUG RAPP

Compliment and you are an authority; disapprove and you just don't understand.

One of the outstanding features of this year's Sno Week will be the Sno-Show, featuring several UMD students. Crowning activities and the awarding of the participation trophy will be included in the show. Date of the event is Feb. 15.

Sno-Buttons, the admission to these activities, are now on sale by campus organizations. The buttons are 25c apiece.

"We hope that the whole student body will participate in this year's Sno-Week, and help make it the success it has been in previous years. We are especially looking forward to the continuance of the participation trophy as a regular part of Sno-Week activities", commented Gayle Kennedy, Sno-Week chairman.

English Educators Publish Speaker For Annual Tea

On Feb. 11 from 3:45 to 5:30 p. m. the Fellowship of English Educators will sponsor its annual tea in the KSC ballroom. A short program and refreshments are planned.

The tea is open to all English majors and minors, English professors and administrators and their wives, high school teachers that aid student English teachers and to all students interested in English.

Special guest of honor will be Miss Christa-Elizabeth Roehr, a teacher of English in Germany who is one of a group studying and observing in the United States on a Fulbright Scholarship.

She is in her second year of practice teaching in an all-girl high school in the British zone. In Germany, students attend elementary and high school for 13 years, university for four or five years and if they are planning to teach, an additional two years is required in practice teaching. After this trial period a teacher is allowed to pick her own school and is given full salary.

The curriculum differs in that students take from 12 to 13 compulsory subjects. They also attend school on Saturday until noon. Extra activities aren't as numerous as in American schools, but due to American influence they are increasing in the German school system.

Speakers Needed For High Schools

Freshmen speakers are needed to return to their respective high schools during Spring vacation, March 24-28. The purpose of this is to acquaint graduating high school seniors with the transition that takes place between high school and college. All those interested can register at the Kirby Student Center desk before February 15th. A brief training program will be conducted.

AMPLIFICATION

The UMD STATESMAN wishes to acknowledge the omission of student Robert Zimmers' name from the "B" group on the fall quarter Dean's list. The name was not received in time for publication then.

Campus Chest Is Expanding

By NEIL LANDRY

The UMD Campus Chest Week, Feb. 25—March 1, will feature social and educational activities to raise funds for World University Service (WUS) and Crusade for Freedom, says Ken Cayo, co-ordinator.

Sponsored by Student Commission, the week will include:

*Tag Day—With organization representatives selling tags which will admit students to movies.

*Carnival—With organization-sponsored booths.

*Movies—In KSC Ballroom. UPA artists "Mr. Magoo" and "Gerald McBoing-Boing" will be featured; with educational films on WUS and Crusade for Freedom sponsored by KSC Educational and Cultural committee.

*"Mr. Bird-dog" contest—an all-campus bird-dog will be chosen.

WUS is an international service organization which gives aid to students in lodging, health, scholarship, and through other assistance.

Crusade for Freedom is the American organization which gives financial support to Radio Free Europe and other activities of the Free Europe Committee, Inc. RFE broadcasts to Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Bavaria and Bulgaria.

Exact apportionment of Campus Chest funds will be decided by steering committee vote on Feb. 13.

Cayo stresses that Campus Chest Week is to be an educational experience for the student, as stated in the Campus Chest bulletin, which says: "It is possible, through a well-run fund-raising appeal, to bring the whole student body into a sense of personal concern for world affairs. No greater contribution can be made to American student life than to enlist their participation in the role of the United States in helping to create international understanding."

On the Campus Chest Steering committee are Ken Cayo, co-ordinator; Ruth Ann Johnson and Jim Banovetz, activities; John Hill, education; Ann Kansom, administration; Sharon Sieger, publicity; Peter Thorsteinson, Student Commission representative; Jim Johnson, business manager; Edwin Sigelkow and Miss Marjorie Papke, advisors.

Ecumenical Movement Parleyed

Virginia Buus, Marjorie Dahl, and Elizabeth Smith will be conducting a series of discussions on the student ecumenical movement. These girls attended an ecumenical conference concerned with our united witness on campus and now they will be discussing questions concerning UMD and how we can make it the campus it should be. The discussions are held at the LSA house, 710 Woodland Ave., on Tuesday evenings from 5-6:30 p. m. All students on campus are invited.

LSA TO SUPPORT FOREIGN STUDENT

The LSA has voted to support one international student who will attend the Lutheran World Assembly in Minneapolis from August 15-25. This student will be one of 20 such foreign students who will also attend the annual LSA Ashram at St. Olaf College from August 25-31, 1957.

At the February 14th meeting of the LSA an all musical program will be featured.

Registration . . .

Registration materials may be picked up beginning February 15 in Room 130 Kirby Student Center. The program card will include the student's name, student number, and registration appointment time on the face of the card.

After the student picks up his class cards, he will complete all materials including the information requested on the class cards themselves. He will then have the materials checked by tally clerks who will hold them for fee statement preparation. Fee statements may be picked up on the following days: March 5—seniors, adult specials and graduate students; March 6—juniors; March 7—sophomores; and March 8—freshmen.

Students are warned that they must fill out their applications for exemption from UMD Blue Cross hospitalization and deposit them in the containers provided before Feb. 22. Exemption slips and drop-boxes for them are provided in the business office in Main and the office of admissions and records in Kirby Student Center.

Earl Hobe, business manager says, "Unless they (the students) have an approved card, they will be expected to pay the fee." Approximately 800 students applied for exemption from UMD Blue Cross last quarter, and because many had not filled out the exemption card, personal interviews with Hobe were necessary which took a great deal of time.

Students can avoid such difficulties by picking up the cards (which are available today), filling them out, and depositing them in the boxes in KSC and Main.

Hobe stresses the fact that the cards MUST be in by Feb. 22.

than 150 educational FM and AM radio stations operating in the United States in addition to countless other college carrier-current broadcasting systems. If the support of KUMD does temporarily require the curtailment of some present activity, such curtailment seems only reasonable.

It will be KUMD's responsibility to provide high-level programming, interpreting the ideals of the University to the community. Whether the operation eventually is AM, FM or both, primary stress can be expected to be placed upon classical music, discussions and interviews, UMD sports and features of interest to the UMD student.

Our concern is not to have most of the listeners all of the time; it is to resist some of the trends in contemporary radio that your editorial so magnificently portrays.

Commish Drops Charter Africans Given Support

By DOUG RAPP

One aspect of this week's student commission meeting was very like last Tuesday's session. Richard Gottschald, president of the UMD Broadcasting Service once again presented the KUMD constitution which once again was turned down. Since this looks as though it may turn into a weekly hassle, perhaps we had better explain the reasons for the refusal. There are three: one, there is too much unwarranted control written into the constitution; two, KUMD refuses to seat a non-voting representative from the student commission on its executive board; three, it is not clear what the KUMD executive board has to do with the programming.

The students of the Universities of South Africa asked for moral support and they got it. Here's the bit: The Universities there are completely segregated. The free-thinking and humanitarian students are opposed to this sort of narrow-minded management of their education . . . so they voice their opinions. However, the officials will not allow them the right to express their feelings. The fight, then, is basically for free speech. Our Student Commission voted to draw up a resolution expressing the complete moral support of the UMD student body. It's times like this that we are mighty proud of our commission.

UMD Bulldogs Battle Pipers For Conference Lead

UMD's rampaging Bulldogs racked up their second win in less than a week with a 65-56 win over a strong St. John's team.

By beating the Tom's last week and winning over St. John's Tuesday night, the Bulldogs found themselves pressing Hamline for the MIAC crown. In second place, the Bulldogs sport a 7-3 record, second only to Hamline's 5-1 record.

UMD led at half-time 42-36. Hook-shot artist Jack McKillop scored 12 points in the first half, tying the 12 point output of St. John's star guard, Dick Machinski.

Sparkplug guard Jim Intihar put the clamps on Machinski causing the big guard to blow many shots he usually makes. Jon Sampson teamed up with Intihar to turn the consistent rebounding of Vince Ekroot, Hrold Bergstadt, and Jack McKillop into an ever-dangerous fast break attack. Intihar, Monson, and Sampson fouled up the St. John's defense with their hard driving, under basket shots.

Machinski and McKillop shared scoring honors with 22 points each. St. John's forward Jim Kowalkowski was second with 18. Intihar was the only other man to hit in double figure, with 11 points.

Next week's game against the Hamline Pipers holds many firsts and ifs for our Bulldogs. A UMD win will be the first over Hamline (they have lost 11). It would put UMD in first place for the first time since it entered the MIAC.

Of all the games played by the UMD basketball team, this game will be the most important ever.

Last Saturday night at St. Thomas, UMD's basketball Bulldogs scored a 73-62 triumph over the Tommies. The big guns for the bucketteers were Jim Intihar and Vince Ekroot with 22 and 16 points respectively.

The one-two punch of Intihar and Ekroot was enough to pull UMD into third place in the MIAC. The Bulldogs have a record going into the big games this week.

Besides cashing in on a red-hot performance, Intihar was able to hold the Toms' ace, Bob Gallivan, to 20 points. Fourteen of his twenty point total were from the free throw line.

UMD's lead was never more than seven points, although the Bulldogs did lead throughout almost the entire game.

Other Bulldog leaders were Bob Monson, with 14 points, Jack McKillop, 11, and Jon Sampson, with 8 points.

UMD is now going into the final stretch of the basketball season. The Bulldogs are in good standing in the conference. With increased game attendance and a lot of cheering for the bucket boys, the Bulldogs could finish very strong.

Hamline will be the Bulldogs next foe. Game time is 8:00 p. m. in the Phy Ed building. Following the game will be "The Midnight Sun" dance in the KSC cafeteria.

Swimmers Drop Two Meets Show Much Improvement

Last weekend the UMD swimming team competed against Macalester and Hamline. UMD played host to Macalester Friday in what proved to be an exciting meet. Saturday the team journeyed to Hamline to complete a strenuous weekend of swimming. Although losing both meets, the team showed considerable improvement.

In Friday's meet the medley relay team consisting of Harley Tennison, Tim Birman, Tom Brown and Lyman Marshall again won first place. Laurel Smith, swimming the distances for the first time, placed first in the 220 and 440 yard free-style events. Tim Birman won the 200 yard butterfly event and Harley Tennison won the 200 yard backstroke event.

The event that decided the meet was the 400 yard freestyle, the last event of the program. UMD needed first place to win the meet but the Macalester anchor man hit the finish line a fraction of a second ahead of UMD.

At Hamline Saturday, UMD won the same events as on Friday. Although swimming in their second meet in two days the team members came through quite well.

The next scheduled meet will be the conference meet at Macalester Feb. 28 and March 1-2. Attempts are being made to schedule one more meet at home. With approximately three weeks to prepare, the team should do very well in the conference meet this year.

Eveleth Nite Planned

"Intihar-Eveleth" Night is scheduled in conjunction with the UMD-Hamline game at 8 p. m. Saturday, Feb. 9, in the Phy Ed building. Special activities honoring the lanky leaper, a Little All-American selection while at Eveleth Junior College, are being planned under leadership of UMD student athletic commissioner Harvey Flaman. The event also will recognize athletic performances by previous Eveleth alumni at UMD. Eveleth high school and junior college as well as community representation is expected.

UMD may well win the MIAC basketball title this year. With a team full of competitors like Jim Intihar, the Bulldogs can hardly miss. The likeable lad with the flying feet is one of the stars depended upon by the Bulldogs.

Besides being the key man in UMD's fast breaks, Intihar usually has the job of setting up plays and, because of his great dribbling and ball handling skill, is usually the man with the ball when opposing defensive pressure is on.

The versatile speedster not only shines on offense but usually gets the job of guarding opposing high scorers. Jim frequently succeeds in holding his man down to half the points that he is accustomed to getting in a game. Bulldog coach Norm Olson says that Intihar is one of the best defensive guards to play under him.

Jim attended Eveleth high school where he was a member of the basketball, baseball and track squads. Later he played for Eveleth Jr. College. He is majoring in history, which he plans to teach next Fall, and minoring in physical education. Asked if he had a hobby, the modest star replied, "All sports!"

Bulldog Notes

by Carl Jeanetta

Spectators at last week's city ski jumping meet at Fond du Lac were treated to a collection of thrills.

First thrill of the afternoon was the terrific performance put on by Finland's ace skiers Antti Hyvarinin and Juhahi Karkinin. Karkinin was hampered by bad luck on his first attempt, and fell after a leap of 218 feet. Antti Hyvarinin displayed his olympic gold medal form in putting together leaps of 214 and 215 feet while taking first place in Class A. His famed torpedo style of jumping held the spectators breathless.

The crowd hardly had time to catch its breath when national class B champion Jerry Lewis poled the hickory in leaps of 199 and 186 feet to capture the junior championship. Jerry has come away with honors in every meet he has entered this year.

The greatest thrill was yet to come. UMD freshman Bob Dahl, a veteran jumper, began his ride down the 60 meter slope. As he reached the jump his skis came loose; from there the law of gravity took over. 5000 people held their breath as a limp Bob Dahl fell to the slope below. Minutes passed and finally a badly shaken and bruised skier began his slow unsteady walk off the landing. As far as is known, Bob is the first ski jumper to fall from a 60 meter jump and come away with no broken bones. A new record, and a nice one to walk away from.

More ski news . . . UMD Co-ed Betts Lawson came through with a double win in a down-hill and slalom event held at Grand Marais Sawtooth Ski Resort on Sunday. Betts toured the slopes with times of 99.7 in the down-hill and 1.05.1 in the slalom event.

WAA Activities

By MARIETTA BROWER

The high school playday the WAA sponsored last Saturday was a success in every respect. The girls from the various schools seemed to be enjoying every minute of it, and showed it with their enthusiasm and cooperation. They were assigned to various teams as they registered, and had an opportunity to get acquainted with students from the other schools on these teams.

The teams had names coinciding with the theme "See You On The Slopes," such as boots, poles, chalet, etc. Points were given the teams in volleyball, archery basketball and VBB. Group leader Joan Engard's team took top honors for the day, and a trophy was given to a representative of each school on the team.

Congratulations are in order for everyone helping with the Playday, from the general chairman to the group leaders and committeemen. It could never have been so successful without their hard work and splendid cooperation. The fact that so many girls volunteered their time and effort to the high school Playday was most encouraging, because with the state Playday drawing near and committees starting to function, the same wholehearted cooperation can make this event just as much a success.

Anyone wishing to assist with the state Play Day who has not signed up yet is urged to do so immediately. Help is still needed.

Tuesday, February 12, there will be no WAA activity because of the holiday. Tentative plans for the 14th are skiing and badminton. Please check the bulletin board in the locker room for details.

Everyone interested in playing competitive basketball is urged to sign up immediately in the women's locker room at the physical education building. Two teams are being formed to play against Superior, Denfeld and Cloquet teams. The first games will be played against Superior on Tuesday, February 19 at 7 p. m., with swimming following the second game. The evening will close with a lunch served to all participants. Tuesday, February 26, of the following week, Denfeld will be the opponent, with the Cloquet game scheduled for Tuesday, March 5. All girls who are interested are asked to sign up now.

The UMD puckmen, with only two conference games remaining are once more the dominating force in the MIAC. With every team with two or more losses to their credit and the Bulldogs holding a 10-0 record the hockey title will remain in Duluth for the second straight year.

Since Coach Connie Pleban became the mastermind behind UMD's chances the amazing puck squad has yet to loose a game. They roared through the conference last year with a 12-0 record and at present hold a 23 game winning streak dating back to 1955.

Monday they play the St. John's sextet for the second time this season. The engagement is set for the Curling Club starting at 8 p. m.

With Elmer Schwartz banging in two goals early in the first period and Harvey Flaman, Butch Curran, Don Wilkie, and Bob Smith spacing their goals in the remaining time the Bulldogs performed their 6-1 feat over the Johnnies Tuesday at St. John's. This brings the MIAC scoring of UMD to 51 goals while the opposition has been able to slip 8 past the efforts of goalies Jerry Kleisinger and Dick Gustafson.

Last Friday, Macalester was whollped 17-0 and on Saturday Hamline and rough ice held the pucksters to two goals with a 2-1 final score.

The Bulldogs have already beaten every team at least once and have shut out every team once . . . except St. John's.

The Bulldog Grip . . .

By DON ROMANO

UMD, currently leading the MIAC with a ten-nothing record, and St. Johns with five wins and four losses battle at the curling club Monday at 8 p. m.

The Bulldogs so far have stopped Macalester, St. Thomas, and Hamline twice, holding single victories over St. Johns and Gustavus. St. Johns lost to St. Thomas twice, Hamline and Gustavus, once. Their fifth loss was handed them by UMD Tuesday, when the Bulldogs gained a six-one verdict.

St. John's will bring a fifteen man squad to Duluth. In the nets will be Chick Cullen or John Kelly. On defense, Chuck Froehle, Jake Rydel, Len Kohler, Clem Connors, Bernie McInerney, Frank Rapy. The forwards are By Johnson, Al Goulet, Jack Quesnell, Johnny Fournell, Tom Campbell, Phabe Whartman, and Frank Moran.

Coach Connie Pleban has Jerry Kleisinger and Dick Gustafson for net-minding duty. Ron Pretlac, Don Judnick, John By-mark, Jerry Abelsen and Jerry Olson on defense and forwards Harvey Flaman, Elmer Schwartz, Butch Curran, Mike Horn, Alex Sisto, Bob Smith, Bernard Cousineau, Larry Cronkhite, Don Wilkie, Scot Dahl and Ed Holt.

All that remains in conference play for UMD is a February 20 date with Gustavus Adolphus at the Curling club.

Intramural

By DICK BAKKE

The final round of intramural basketball was held last night. Following the tabulation of the final standings, pairings will be made for the playoffs. The playoffs will determine UMD's entry in the MIAC intramural championships. Because of the UMD basketball game last week there was no basketball competition. The volleyball results from last Tuesday follow:

H. W. Archerd, Supervisor of Admissions and Records.

CLARIFICATION OF POLICY CONCERNING PARKING

The following motions were passed by the Discipline Committee on December 6, 1957, and have been approved:

1. In the event of a violation of campus parking or driving regulations, the driver of the car will be liable as well as the registered owner or UMD student who is responsible for the particular vehicle being brought to the campus.

2. A suspension from the University will mean that the student cannot take part in class activities or in extraclass activities."

PARKING VIOLATIONS

The Student-Faculty Discipline Committee has established the following as disciplinary actions for violation of parking and traffic regulations on the various UMD campuses. Parking in fire lanes: first offense—three-day suspension; second offense—suspension for the balance of the quarter in which the violation occurs. Parking in restricted areas: first offense—strict warning; second offense—three-day suspension; third offense—suspension for the balance of the quarter in which the violation occurs.

R. J. Falk, Secretary, Discipline Committee.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In reference to your condemnation of the beneficial possibilities of a student-operated educational radio station on the UMD campus, it is our intent to question your qualifications as a critic in this field.

Your editorial comes as a considerable shock to those of us who have spent hundreds of hours trying to institute KUMD as a foundation or stepping stone toward an educational radio station for the Duluth area.

That commercial radio in this market is: 1. Emphasizing music, news and sports, 2. Not offering production type shows, and 3. Crowded, appears to be your contention in advocating that our efforts would probably be better spent in the Dramatics department.

We seriously doubt that you have conducted any research either into the field of educational broadcasting or into the intentions of the UMD Broadcasting Service. If you had done either of these things, we can not comprehend how any college student, much less one in as influential a position as the editor of the newspaper, could hold and profess as negatively biased an opinion as you seem to have on the benefits of educational radio.

It is the intention of our group to provide not only a higher level program schedule than that offered by the commercial stations in the area but also to give an opportunity to UMD students interested in radio to gain an educational experience that here-to-fore could only be had by attending a specialized training school.

Your congratulations are appreciated and we hope that this letter, if not changing your attitude, will at least stimulate your interest in the service that we are endeavoring to provide.

Sincerely,

Walfred Harnish,
For the UMD Broadcasting Service.

club would like to know in what respect the Mickey Mouse club and the Sno-Week committee are synonymous.

In reply to this request, we would like to answer that the Sno-Week committee has apparently been watching the illustrious Mouseketeers for a number of weeks. This may be the reason that the ideas of each are similar. The programming on the part of both groups is just as the name implies—a type of Mickey Mouse club organizing.

The Sno-Week Committee is acting like a group of unrehearsed Mouseketeers. Their original planning, which could have been compared to a rehearsed Mouseketeers meeting, has not been adhered to at all. To paraphrase a familiar quotation from Robert Burns, "The best laid schemes of mice and men often go astray." This seems to be the pattern of particularly the Sno-Week committee—a "wishy-washy" type of organizing. The committee has not made a definite decision regarding any phase of Sno-Week. Each proposal has been declared re-considered, discussed, re-declared, and so on. Is this the way to run a school-sponsored event? The voice of a few hashing and rehashing events that will effect all of UMD.

True, the committee has received pressure from a number of school organizations. This could have resulted in the mass state of confusion prevailing in the Sno-Week office for the past few weeks. But, again, it could well be attributed to the lack of planning and co-ordination by the committee.

The men of the Vets' club also feel that certain opinions of some of the members of the Sno-Week committee should not be for students approval or disapproval. Granted, man is entitled to express his beliefs, but are opinionated statements to be handed out to every available ear? Controversy is prevalent in the plans for Sno-Week, but certainly the members of the committee should not express personal views regarding selection of a queen candidate.

The point in question is the fact that the Vets' club, being ill-advised by the committee last Friday, went ahead with publicity plans for the Sno queen campaign, only to learn on Saturday of the change in plans by the committee. The club spent a great deal of money on their publicity. Had they been properly advised at the time in question, a good deal of money and enthusiasm may not have been unnecessarily spent.

Sincerely,
The Vets' Club

A native of Virginia, Minn., Dr. Brunetti has won high honors from his government and his colleagues for his outstanding contributions. His UMD appearance is sponsored by the industrial education department, division of education and psychology.

Probably best known for his work in the development and production engineering of the radio proximity fuse, a major secret weapon in World War II. Dr. Brunetti also has pioneered development of the printed electronic circuit, mechanized electronic production, high reliability electronics, electronic miniaturization and simplified maintenance design.

He now heads a research staff of some 400 persons in mechanical, electronics, chemistry and physics research and an engineering staff of 125. In addition to his responsibilities in developing new proprietary products for his firm, he supervises a broad program of contract research for the military and other government agencies, as well as other industries.

In the military field, his supervision includes fire control, bombing and navigation sub-systems, missile sub-systems, countermeasures, balloon and meteorological systems. Affiliated research groups are operating at many U. S. points, in Europe, South America, Panama, Greenland and other countries.

Named the "outstanding young electrical engineer of the U. S. in 1941 by Eta Kappa Nu, national honor society for electrical engineers, Dr. Brunetti has received numerous awards from the departments of the army, navy war, and defense.

BUBBLES, BANGLES, AND NYLON CHIFFONS

Hey gals, you just got a date for the Sno-Ball and I'll bet that you don't have "a thing to wear." Besides that, if you feel as I do, you'll hate to buy a strictly winter dress this late in the season. Well, Maurices Bridal Shop can solve all your problems with their lovely new cocktail dresses. These dresses are not strictly one-season gowns; beginning with the Sno-Ball, they can also be worn the rest of the winter and spring months. These lovely garments come in a variety of colors with the accent upon the blues, violets, and pink hues that are so popular this season. Also this year, a new type of material called silk organzine is being shown and when you see it, you will realize why it is so popular among college girls. These dresses start at $22.95 at Maurices Bridal Shop, located at 5 N. 1st Ave. W.

See you at Maurices.
